

Calling All Art Teachers- NFTE in the New York Times

Check out the article "Transforming Art Into a More Lucrative Career Choice" published in the New York Times. A link to the article can be found on the YEScarolina website home page.

"After refining his idea in class, Mr. Niles entered his business plan into a local competition sponsored by the National Foundation for Teaching Entrepreneurship and captured the grand prize for South Florida, which allowed him to compete in a national competition in New York this fall."
